

Attending MDT Meetings

How we help

At National Epilepsy Care, we firmly believe that the key to successfully managing epilepsy lies with the care team. We are qualified and experienced in attending MDT meetings alongside case managers, physios and other members of the care team, as well as educational staff for our service users.

It's absolutely crucial that everyone involved in an individual's care plan is on the same page and up-to-date with the latest developments. The sharing of information is vital during MDT meetings and we aim to discuss our service users' issues and present potential solutions and actions.

Another reason for regular MDT meetings is to ensure that the care plan is updated and satisfactory for all involved, especially the service user. This way we can create a plan that takes into account all aspects of a service user's care and provide the best possible advice with all the facts.

We're experienced in working as part of a wider team and always aim to find resolutions that suit everyone and are, of course, in the best interests of the client.
