

Communicating with Case Managers

How we help

Effective communication with case managers is an important factor for epilepsy care. At National Epilepsy Care, we have the experience and knowledge to ensure that care is coordinated effectively with the case manager.

We use our expert knowledge to work as a team in order to optimise the service user's well-being on a wide range of topics, including:

- Medication reviews
- Environmental risks and factors
- Effective team management
- The procurement of specialised aids
- Assessment visits
- Regular visits
- Care planning

We're passionate about healthcare for our clients and always put their needs and requirements first. We're experienced in working as part of a larger team to effectively manage a service user's condition and provide exceptional care that improved quality of life.
